GILMAN'S PICTURES SOLD.

Some of Them Went at Two for a Quarter —Sale Brought Less Than $500.

BROOKLYN, Conn., Dec. 20.—George F.
Gilman's collection of paintings, numbering 300, which were sold at public auction here to-day, brought less than $500. The collection was believed by the heirs and public at large to be worth $20,000 or $30,000 and since Mr. Gilman's death, nearly four years ago, was the subject of wide comment.

Some of the paintings sold for ten and fifteen cents each and "two for a quarter" was the price that some of the small ones were knocked down for. In the entire collection there were less than twenty-five paintings that could be described as fairly good. The others were very bad and looked like the work of "artists" who perform on the vaudeville stage.

All the pictures were encased in a costly frame and shadow box, the value of which alone greatly exceeded the proceeds of the forced sale of the paintings. Carl J. Blenner, the well known New York artist, was a bidder at the auction. He bid in one, the first of his own paintings. There were three of them in the collection. The best picture in the lot, by Pict, the French artist brought $55. A local dealer in art goods said he framed the picture and that the frame alone cost $200.

Pictures eight feet high in massive frames sold for five and ten dollars. The sale was a disappointment to the Bridgeport Trust Company, the administrators of the estate.

DEANE MILLER FINED $25.

End of Auto Speed Case Which Cost Sergeant Four Days' Pay.

Deane Miller, a broker and a member of the New York Stock Exchange, who gave his address as the Racquet Club, 27 West Forty-third street, was fined $25 in Special Sessions yesterday by Justice McKeon, Zeller and Olmsted for speeding his automobile. He was arrested on Aug. 25 at Fifth avenue and Thirty-fourth street by Mounted Policemen Fitzgerald and Walsh, while driving a twenty-horse-power machine. He was taken to the Tenlerford police station, and offered the desk sergeant $100, all the money he had with him, as bail.
The sergeant demanded $300, and locked Miller in a cell for several hours. It was a hot night, and when he was finally released Miller complained to Commissioner McAdoo.
The sergeant was fined four days' pay.

In Special Sessions Fitzgerald and Walsh were exceeding the speed limit. He was fined $25. Miller remarked:
"Well, these cops certainly know how to swear."

"Good Taste," said Beau Brummel at Christmas, "means good sense—and my Taste is for Togsery."

John Stevens was shot twice and will probably die. He tried to bring down his murderers by shooting at them as they fled, and blood marks on the snow indicate that his aim was good.

The Wanamaker Store

Store Closes at 7 o'Clock.

Christmas Is Almost Here.

This has been the busiest season this store ever knew. We have had more people to serve, and more goods to deliver than ever before in the past; and yet we have never had a season when everything moved so smoothly as it has this year.

The entire organization is at its very best. We are making fewer mistakes, and have received less complaints than ever before. Notwithstanding the enormous number of people we are serving, the store was never more comfortable in Christmas week than it is now.

Aisles are free everywhere possible. All points likely to be congested are kept open. Of course, you cannot expect to shop during the last days of Christmas week without finding the hurrying holiday crowds; but you will find only pleasant people to rub elbows with at WANAMAKER'S; and you will find the most pleasant and satisfying shopping during these last days by coming here.

The Subway has added an enormous convenience this year, and you can step in at your door, and step out at WANAMAKER'S, without having to push your way through crowded thoroughfares and muddy streets.

The pleasant store, the splendidly assorted stocks, the easy and direct transit, all join in inviting you to WANAMAKER'S for your Christmas purchases this week.

Chickering & Sons Rushed GRAND PIANOS

To Us from Boston,
By Express, Yesterday

Quarter Grands and the new Infant Grands—they shipped all that were in the factory. And they still won't be enough—judging by the enormous selling we've been doing in the last few days.

These two little Grand Pianos are the wonder of the piano industry. Chickering & Sons are the only manufacturers who have succeeded, where a dozen have tried and failed.

The Quarter Grand is only 5 feet, 5 inches long, the Infant Grand is only 5 feet long—and their exquisite tone-qualities are not a matter of conjecture—listen to either of them; play them for yourself, or have them examined by some musical critic in whose judgment you have perfect confidence.

Never was there an upright piano that approached them in power, sweetness, or purity of tone. They are most fascinating and delightful. Singers, particularly, appreciate them.

And then, their wonderful beauty! You almost feel that you want to take them in your arms. They are so small—so graceful—so exquisite. And they require little more space than an upright piano—

And $20 Cash is all you need pay for either—With twelve dollars a month afterward, and the small interest of four per cent. per annum on the unpaid part.

Do you wonder that we've sold all we had, and had to order all the factory could give us SENT BY EXPRESS?

They'll all be gone in a jiffy now. If interested, be EARLY. Piano Store, Fifth floor.

Angora Garments For Men and Women

These warm and distinguished-looking garments are to be found only at WANAMAK-ER'S and in London. Nothing else gives quite so much protection for outdoor sports, as well as business trips outdoors, as these close-textured Angora wool garments. They make most desirable gifts for Christmas.

Here are suggestions of the different garments and the prices:

FOR MEN—

Single-breasted Jackets, at $10.50.

Cardigan Jackets, at $12.

Double-breasted Waistcoats, at $13.50.

Single-breasted Waistcoats, at $10.

Gloves, at $2. Mitts, at $1.50.

FOR WOMEN—

Double-breasted Jackets, at $12.

Single-breasted Jackets, at $8.

Boleros, at $7.50. Gloves, at $2.

Also in the Men's Furnishing Store will be found some unusually luxurious French-made wool Bath Slippers for men. The uppers are made of thick warm plaid materials, warmly interlined, and with soft inner poles welted on a felt sole, laid over a leather outer sole.

They present the maximum of warmth and ease to the wearer. $2 a pair.

Broadway and Ninth street.

Imported Terry Robes For Men

We are selling almost as many Terry Cloth Bath Robes for gifts as we are blanket robes. This is not so extraordinary when you consider that holiday gifts are not necessarily presents for the moment. There is something particularly handsome about these French Terry Cloth Robes that makes them ideal for holiday giving.

Some of the robes are in beautiful new color-combinations, and are quite effective. One style has a border in contrasting color all the way down the front, and around the cuffs of the sleeves, that is most pleasing.

The materials are specially woven, and have that peculiar softness that Paris manufacturers alone seem able to produce. Then the robes are specially made up by the best Paris makers, with the qualities of ample size and comfortable fit, which we have suggested during the years we have been importing these goods from this manufacturer.

Prices range from the simple Robes at $3 and $5.50 up to the very handsomest Terry Cloth Robes made, at $18.
